No urgent development is necessary

0-50%

If red, it means this is a major development area.

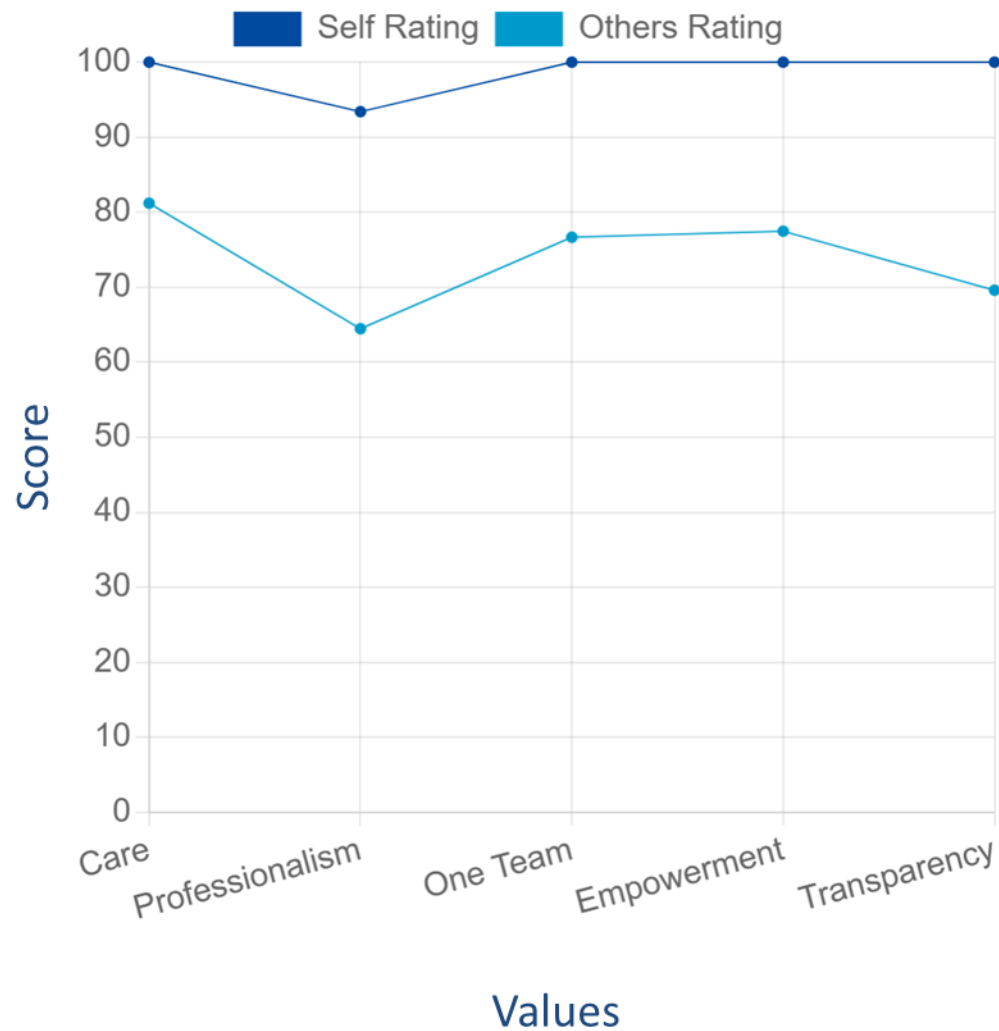

50-80%

If yellow, it means this is a secondary development area.

Explainer

- The Overall Score is your score based on the collective opinion of your line manager, your peers, your direct reports, and yourself.
- This result shows your top 5 Strengths.
 - If green, it means this is a strength. No urgent development is necessary
 - If less than 5, it means you don't have 5 strong areas.
 - If "No Strengths", it means you don't have a strong area.

Explainer

- This result shows a comparison between your self-rating versus how others(The collective opinion of your line manager, peers and direct reports) rated you in term of the five values (Care, Professionalism/Excellence , One Team, Empowerment Transparency).
- If there is a notable variance between your self-rating and others' ratings, check the following:
 - If your self-rating differs significantly from others' rating in that particular value, where your self-rating is significantly higher, then you may have overrated yourself in that value, or others haven't experienced that value from you (Think about how to exhibit it more)
 - If your self-rating differs significantly from others' rating in that particular value, where your self-rating is significantly less, then you may have just underrated yourself in that value.
